

[Important Notice] Announcement Concerning the Reservation Agency Website "Auto Reserve"

Thank you for your continued patronage of our store.

At present, our restaurant's information is featured on the restaurant reservation service website "Auto Reserve." However, this information has been published without our consent, and we have no affiliation with it whatsoever.

We respectfully request that our customers consider the following points.

Significant fees will be incurred.

We have verified instances in which customers incur excessive booking fees when utilizing "Auto Reserve." There are no fees whatsoever (it is complimentary) when you make a reservation directly through our official website or authorized channels.

It is no different from securing a reservation through other fine dining websites.

Reservations made via "Auto Reserve" utilize a system in which artificial intelligence assesses the availability of restaurants on prominent gourmet platforms like "Tabelog" and autonomously secures reservations on your behalf. Consequently, the experience is equivalent to making a reservation directly through a gourmet website.

We do not accept reservations through Auto Reserve.

To avert unforeseen issues and guarantee seamless operation, we typically do not accept reservations made via "Auto Reserve."

To avoid any complications, we respectfully ask that you make your reservation directly via our official website.

We value your understanding and collaboration.
